Ferdinand Ward's Trial in Progress.

LEROY D. THOMAS RESIGNS.

Correspondence Which Passed Between Him and President Cleveland.

Ferd's Trial.

New York, October 26.—The work of making a jury for the trial of Ferdinand Ward was completed this afternoon. District Attorney Martin opened the case. He said Ward had been indicted for larceny, and he read the statutes covering the crime. While the district attorney was speaking, James D. Fish, with his custodian, entered the court room. He glanced at Ward and was removed to a private room, where he remained until wanted as a witness.

The district attorney said that Ward, on May 5, 1884, in this city, presented a check for $71,800 to the Marine Bank, drawn against a check for $75,000 of the First National Bank. Ward received the money from the Marine Bank. The $75,000 check was not honored by the First National Bank, and Ward was guilty of grand larceny by procuring the money from the Marine Bank. The jury must remember Ward was not a thief for raising General Grant and sending him broke-hearted to his grave, or for sending to the state prison for ten years a gentleman highly concerned in banking circles, but was used on trial for grand larceny.

James D. Fish was the first witness called. He leaned over in his chair and gazed at Ward, who looked at his eyes. Ward's counsel moved that the jury be dismissed, on account of the statement of the district attorney regarding General Grant and Mr. Fish. The motion was denied. Mr. Fish said: "I am 56 years old, and a captain in the United States army. I was sent to the state prison for ten years at hard labor. I saw a check handed to me on May 5th; it was handed to me by the paying teller. I directed it certified after I went to the telephone and rang up Ward."

Question: "Is the prisoner here the Ward you mean?"
Fish (leaning over again): "I would that I saw him. Yes, that is the man." (Continued on p. 2.)
Continuing, witness said: "I saw the check here for certification for $71,800 against an uncashed check for $75,000. Ward telephoned back that it was all right, and I certified it. Witness then detailed the oft-told story of creating a check to the break-up of the Marine Bank."

The witness' brother, Benjamin Fish, saying teller of the Marine Bank, corroborated the ex-president's testimony, and the court then adjourned until tomorrow.

"Carton's Anatomy of Melancholy."

It is a wonderful book, setting forth in great detail just how miserable human beings can be. But the whole horrible mass of misery may be summed up in one word—dyspepsia. Anybody who has taken Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia knows how complete and happy is the cure. Mr. Chas. A. Wilson, of St. Louis, writes: "Brown's Iron Bitters has greatly relieved me of weak stomach, indigestion and dizziness."

Lowering the Record.

Salem, Mass., October 26.—"Wm. Woodside, in a ten-mile ride at Hampden Park, to-day, lowered the world's bicycle record from six to ten miles in five minutes, making the ten miles in 21:23. This lowers the record by 1:23 seconds. William Rowe lowered the three-quarter mile record from 1:24 to 1:50.1-5."

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., writes: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would never have the bone scraped or my leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and now I am sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at twenty-five cents per box by Z. C. M. I.

Protests Against It.

Washington, October 27.—Commissioner Sparks, of the Land Office, does not approve of the policy which Assistant Secretary Jenks has laid down, of expending the thirty suits in Montana against those who are charged with taking timber from the public domain. He has written a letter to Secretary Lamar protesting against this.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Piles, Sore, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price twenty-five cents per box. For sale by Z. C. M. I.

Anti-Vaccination.

New York, October 26.—A meeting of the anti-vaccination league was held tonight, and attended by quite a number of medical men. Henry Bergh was president.

Red-bugs, Flies.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, fleas, poppers, chipmunks, cleared out on Rats' 15c.

And Cleveland Accepts with Tally and Thanks.

Washington, October 26.—The following is correspondence:

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION, Washington, October 26.

Sir: Respectfully referring to a conversation had with you on March 10th, in which I expressed a wish to be relieved of my duties as a member of the United States Civil Service Commission, and also to the apparent fact that it was not then your pleasure to consider my request, I have now the honor to tender formally my resignation and earnestly beg your consideration of the same, and its acceptance. While thus asking release from so honorable a trust, I desire to record my gratification over the proved practicability and remedial effectiveness of the reform procedure. Tried veterans in the political warfare, view, with amazement, the facile, though radical, departure from the familiar methods of the spoils system of distributing patronage. Strenuous and sincere argument, and also deliberate perversion, mark the opposition of the different groups of the antagonists, and yet it must be concluded by a majority of the political leaders in either party it is in accord with the Pendleton law, its original enactment, and its endorsement by a subsequent congress and honest legislative expressions, and not the coercion of moral cowardice by popular sentiment, nor partisan legerdemain. In the great task of administrative reform, which you have undertaken, in accordance with personal and party pledges, the people will give aid. It has been my pleasure, within the last two months to visit quite a number of States and Territories of this Union and it was my good fortune to meet with many of their citizens. It is gratifying to know that the people confide in the unequivocal intention of the President to sustain the merit system in the civil service. They had condemned the evils of the former methods; long experience had made their knowledge accurate. They welcomed the inauguration of the new, the distinctive features of reform, appealed to a typically American sentiment, which recommends and advances merit, with the precise details of the new procedure their acquaintance was not so intimate. To this they are fast succeeding, and the result will be a joyful approval. The inception and maintenance of great reforms are with the people. I believe the fundamental idea of civil service reform is characteristic of American thought. Popular hesitation over acceptance of statutory details suggests merely a safe conservatism. In the initial stages of this reform, there will be response throughout the nation. Political contests assumed a new tone. Old time methods of corruption were discouraged and bossism was grappled with fresh vigor. The improvement is yet marked. If vicious elements still seek obstruction into the elections the chances of their success have been lessened. The reform spirit is militant, and advances towards complete success; corruption by official patronage has been removed. With the imparting of a purer life to official circles, the power of the private purse to purchase political honors will be less dangerous. Public appreciation of the fact that this reform does not trench upon partisanship, came late. It was studiously maintained that the civil service was to be composed of men who should abjure the gradual but inevitable refutation of this false view, the outlines of the reform at last stood forth in clearness. It is a reform which views the civil service as a vast business agency. In business which is not political it enforces no tests of party.

With confident trust in the success of your administration, I am,
Your obedient servant,
LEROY D. THOMAS.

To the President:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, October 24th.

To Hon. Leroy D. Thomas, Civil Service Commissioner.

My Dear Sir: I have received your letter tendering your resignation as a member of the Civil Service Commission, which is in furtherance of an inclination expressed by you very soon after my inauguration as President. The resignation thus tendered is hereby accepted, to take effect the 1st day of November next. I congratulate you upon the fact that in the office which you relinquish you have been able by sincere and earnest work, and by steady devotion, to the cause of which you have had charge, to do so much in the interest of good government and improved political methods.

Yours sincerely,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

An Associated Press reporter called this evening upon Commissioner Thomas, who, replying to a question as to his future intentions, said: "I will not be idle a moment. I have some private business matters which will occupy my attention for a short time, and then I expect to resume the practice of law."

It is said Judge Thomas has under consideration a proposition from a large corporation in New York City. His only reply to a question on this point was: "I do not feel at liberty to say anything on that subject at present."

Ohio's Muddle.

CINCINNATI, October 26.—Judge Buchwalter's little court room was crowded to its utmost capacity this morning by the attorneys, candidates, and others interested in the result of the legal proceedings before him in connection with the delivery of certificates of election to the four candidates for Senator from Hamilton County. The matter had been argued and submitted to him on a demurrer, and on motion to dissolve the restraining order heretofore issued by him in favor of the four Republican candidates on their petition. He rendered his decision at considerable length, holding as to the demurrer:

First—There was misjoinder of parties; that the four candidates could sue together or separately.

Second—The court had jurisdiction not to declare who should hold office, for that was clearly the province of the legislature upon a contest, but to declare who was entitled to a certificate, for that was a personal right separate from the title to the office.

He also held that it was not necessary, in order to obtain the aid of the court to prevent an irreparable injury, to do more than make out a prima facie case. While in this case the averments of fact in the petition were insufficient, yet the plaintiffs were entitled to amend in that particular if necessary, and in any case they were entitled to an order to stay the hand of the clerk until the merits of the case could be determined in another court.

The injunction was, therefore, continued in the force and a mandamus issued accordingly. They welcomed the inauguration of the new, the distinctive features of reform, appealed to a typically American sentiment, which recommends and advances merit, with the precise details of the new procedure their acquaintance was not so intimate. To this they are fast succeeding, and the result will be a joyful approval. The inception and maintenance of great reforms are with the people. I believe the fundamental idea of civil service reform is characteristic of American thought. Popular hesitation over acceptance of statutory details suggests merely a safe conservatism. In the initial stages of this reform, there will be response throughout the nation. Political contests assumed a new tone. Old time methods of corruption were discouraged and bossism was grappled with fresh vigor. The improvement is yet marked. If vicious elements still seek obstruction into the elections the chances of their success have been lessened. The reform spirit is militant, and advances towards complete success; corruption by official patronage has been removed. With the imparting of a purer life to official circles, the power of the private purse to purchase political honors will be less dangerous. Public appreciation of the fact that this reform does not trench upon partisanship, came late. It was studiously maintained that the civil service was to be composed of men who should abjure the gradual but inevitable refutation of this false view, the outlines of the reform at last stood forth in clearness. The French Victory.

PARIS, October 26.—Great enthusiasm exists here over the official announcement of French success in Annam. Crowds of people throng the boulevards eagerly discussing the news. A later dispatch received from De Courcy states that the French troops gained the victory, notwithstanding the enemy were inferior in numbers, a number, and that he inflicted great slaughter on the Black Flags. The fighting was very severe, and lasted three days. The enemy fought stubbornly, but were completely routed.

General De Courcy says the enemy numbered 6,000 men and consisted of Black Flags, Annamites and deserters from the Chinese army. Three of the chiefs were killed during the engagement and many prisoners were taken by the French forces. General Jamont conducted the operations against the enemy, which resulted in the capture of the strongly fortified town of Thannan, one of the last and most formidable held by the Black Flags. The French lost thirteen killed and wounded. General Negrier is pursuing the pirates between Banahou Rapids and the Canals in the province of Tonquin.

Considerable Commotion.

BALTIMORE, October 26.—For some days there has been considerable commotion in this city, because of the alleged striking off of names from the lists of registered voters. The case came up before Judge Phelps to-day, and Judges Duffy and Fisher concurring, a rule was made requiring the restoration of all names to the list, unless the registers can show the persons whose names have been stricken off are disqualified. The names are said to amount to several hundreds.

Charge Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 26.—The charges against Deputy United States Marshal Mellis, on attempt to bribe a customs inspector, was dismissed to-day.

Small-pox.

MONTREAL, October 26.—Official returns show thirty-seven deaths in this city on Saturday, from small-pox.

CUTLER & BROS., Agents Prove Woolen Mill, No. 55 East Temple Street, Hooper & Eldridge Block.

Decrease in Revenue.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The decrease in the revenues for the past fiscal year is larger than expected. The law to reduce letter postage from 3 to 2 cents was enacted about two years ago. For the last three-quarters of the first fiscal year, the effect upon the revenue was inconsiderable. This was attributed in a large measure to the great increase in the number of 2-cent stamps that were used to inclose business circulars. It had been expected this increase would continue, so there would not be a large reduction in the postal revenues. But this expectation has not been realized. The first complete fiscal year under the operation of the reduced postage law, closed on the 30th of last June. It was not a good business year. It had been supposed the deficiency would not be more than $4,000,000; on the contrary, it will be about $7,000,000. These figures are not to be taken as accurate, as the President's wish that the bureau reports shall not be given to the public in advance of his message, makes it impossible to obtain the exact figures.

McCullough may Recover.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.—John McCullough, the demented actor, who was brought from Bloomingdale Insane Asylum, New York, to his home in this city on Sunday in a pitiable condition, is reported to have been perceptibly improved by the change to his own home. Mr. Johnson, who accompanied him, says: "I think he is going to get better; not that he will ever be able to go on the stage again, but he will be able to get about, and will regain, to some extent, his faculties. 'Already a great improvement is perceptible. He is brighter and watches those who attend him, a thing he has not done for a great while. Doctors Engle and Lloyd believe he will recover. They propose a new treatment, and hope to completely restore his reason."

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The President to-day appointed J. W. House as United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Arkansas; Monti H. Sanders, for the Western District of Arkansas; F. H. Fletcher, United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Arkansas; John Carroll, Western District, Arkansas. The four are all personal friends of long standing of Attorney-General Garland, and gentlemen of ability and high esteem in their respective localities. They are all Democrats, and each has been more or less active in politics.

Resigned.

BERLIN, October 26.—Herr Von Moellendorf has resigned the Premiership of Prussia.

General Von Moltke celebrated his 85th birthday to-day. He is in excellent health.

To-day, Not To-morrow.

Procrastination is not only the thief of time, but of health and life. It will not do to dally; for example, with a violent cold—To-day it may be a cold and nothing more, to-morrow congestion of the lungs may have commenced, and in a week the patient may be in a dire condition. Hale's Honey of Horehound and To-day, when taken in the early stages of all Lung and Throat diseases, is an absolute and unfailing specific. Nothing can supply its place, nothing is needed. A favorable result is guaranteed. Sold by all Druggists everywhere at 50 cents and $1. Great saving by purchasing large size. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

How to Consult Dr. Foote, Sent by Mail.

Dr. Foote, Senior, author of "Plain Home Talk," "Medical Common Sense," etc., would say to those who would like to consult him by mail that they can have a list of questions and a circular of gratuitous advice by addressing Box 414, Salt Lake City. The doctor has arranged to have such information supplied in this way to save time. Receiving such printed matter the correspondent can describe his or her case fully and direct to the doctor in New York. Dr. Foote is successfully treating all forms of chronic diseases, a specialty to which he has devoted thirty years of study and practice. Evidence of his success can also be had by addressing Box 414, as above, but all letters of consultation and orders for remedies should be addressed to Dr. E. B. Foote, Sr., 120 Lexington Avenue, New York City, N. Y. Consultation free. An advertisement of Dr. Foote, Sr., in the Sunday and Wednesday editions deserves attention.

Warning!

It is not to be wondered at that most Americans are dyspeptics. Swallowing ice cold drinks on a hot summer day does the mischief. Why then not add ten drops of Angostura Bitters, the world-renowned tonic of exquisite flavor, and thus avoid all danger of cold in the stomach.

Medical Men of Distinction.

Have been among the foremost to give honor where honor was due in the case of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Abjuring old-fashioned professional prejudice, they have frankly borne evidence to its worth as a means of remedying dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious remittent, rheumatism, constipation, liver complaint, debility and renal disorders. With all intelligent people this favorable professional verdict has had its due weight, especially as it was in direct confirmation of that of the people and the press. For more effective line it proved than bombastic assertion, and almost resorted to by the proprietors of remedies of doubtful value. "The plain unvarnished truth" about the Bitters is more than sufficient to convince a skeptic. As a family medicine of comprehensive utility, prompt and thorough in action and pure in composition, it stands deservedly first.

No More Extravagance in Millinery.

The time when a husband turned pale at the sight of his wife's millinery bill is a thing of the past. It no longer takes almost their weight in gold to secure a fashionable hat or bonnet for a lady or child. To Simon Bros. is due the credit of having brought about this desirable change, and that their efforts and principle of doing business have been and are well seconded by the ladies. Is easily proven by paying a visit to their establishment. Their store is crowded from early morning until late at night, the force of clerks being hardly sufficient to wait upon all their friends and customers. Honorable treatment, low prices, attractive goods and courteous and obliging clerks will always prove a lodestone bound to attract the attentions of the ladies.

If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Swift's Specific

In nature's own remedy made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present time. The above cure represents the method of manufacture twenty years ago, by Mr. C. Swift, one of the present proprietors. The demand has been gradually increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it.
